
Here's a more general version of the cover letter that you can use for any application:

Brian Kelley

2808 Mountain Ave
Copperas Cove, TX 76522
254-499-2121
briankelley141@gmail.com

Dear Hiring Manager,

With over four years of experience in website development, I have developed a strong skill set in creating high-quality web applications and user-friendly interfaces. My portfolio highlights my passion for building intuitive, visually appealing, and reliable applications. I'm confident that my technical background and commitment to delivering exceptional work make me a valuable addition to your team.

In my career, I've worked on a wide range of projects, from responsive e-commerce platforms to real-time applications that enhance communication. My recent experience as a Website Developer Intern has further refined my skills in web development best practices and teamwork, while my freelance projects have taught me how to adapt to new challenges and manage client relationships effectively. I pride myself on delivering custom solutions with a strong attention to detail.

I'm proficient in tools and languages like React, Node.js, JavaScript, and Python, as well as cloud deployment and CI/CD pipelines. In addition to technical skills, I emphasize clean, maintainable code and a seamless user experience in every project. Staying current in this fast-paced field is important to me, so I am committed to continuous learning and regularly contribute to open-source projects.

I am thrilled about the possibility of bringing my technical expertise and enthusiasm for creative problem-solving to your team. Please feel free to explore my portfolio at [your portfolio link] to learn more about my work. Thank you for considering my application, and I look forward to the possibility of working together to create exceptional digital experiences.

Warm regards,
Brian Kelley